Gain In Sales Tax Receipts Reflects Buying

Easter Time Sales
Brought First Rise
Since First of Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The week before Easter is traditionally a time for the ladies to buy new spring clothes. And that buying helps, in turn, to boost sales tax revenues.

So much so, in fact, that the week was the first one this year in which sales tax collections were higher than in a corresponding week of 1957, according to records of state Treasurer Roger W. Tracy.

Collections in the week ended

Retail Trade Gain Noted In County

Retail trade showed a gain in Columbiana County for the week ended April 5, compared to a year ago, according to the statement of prepaid sales tax receipts issued today by State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy.

The total was $33,842.93 against $32,124.52 for the corresponding period of 1957, the report shows.

April 5 amounted to $3,585,862. That was an increase of $52,383 — or 1.48 per cent — above the week ended April 6, 1957.

However the corresponding week a year ago was not the week before Easter, last year Easter Sunday didn't come until April 21. So the sales tax revenues for the two corresponding weeks cannot be compared favorably.

In the week before Easter last year the sales tax collections totaled $3,740,192.

The last previous week in which sales tax collections exceeded those of the corresponding week in the previous year was the last week in 1957. That also was a week of a great deal of buying. Christmas, remember?

So far in the bookkeeping year which started last July 1, sales tax collections have fallen slightly more than six million dollars below those of the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

Four major counties were among the 45 which reported higher sales tax collections in the pre-Easter week than in the corresponding 1957 period. These were Cuyahoga, Lucas, Franklin and Montgomery.

An even dozen counties show higher collections to date in the present fiscal year than they had last year to date: Athens, Fairfield, Gallia, Holmes, Madison, Meigs, Monroe, Perry, Washington, Wayne and Wood.

Indonesian Troops Take Rebel Port

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Jubilantly proclaiming the capture of Padang, President Sukarno's government said today its forces are advancing on the last rebel stronghold in Sumatra.

Six thousand marines, foot soldiers and commandos swarmed into the port city of 150,000 beginning at dawn Thursday and routed the rebels to the dense Sumatran jungles by nightfall. The next objective was Bukittinggi, the mountain rebel capital 40 miles north of Padang.

A Jakarta regiment also was reported moving on rebel troops in the Celebes, the octopus-shaped islands 1,200 miles to the east which stood with Sumatra in the outer islands' fight against Jakarta.

The rebels claim Sukarno's government on Java has been too friendly with the Communists and short-changed them on foreign trade revenues from their own rich oil, copra, spice and other exports.

Dirksen Backs Ike in Defense Program Fight

Eisenhower Opens Battle For Revision Of Military Command

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said today he foresees ultimate victory for a reorganization of the Defense Department along the lines urged by President Eisenhower.

Dirksen, assistant GOP Senate leader, said he is "quite sympathetic to the whole thing" especially in the light of explanations he and other leaders have received at White House briefings.

Eisenhower opened his fight for the program with a nationally televised address before a meeting here of newspaper editors. He received a prompt pledge of vigorous support from 24 of the Senate's 47 Republican members.

The plan also won limited endorsement from the Army Asso., the membership of which includes active, retired and reserve Army officers. The Air Force Asso. previously had endorsed the plan, but the Navy League, a civilian group, has criticized it.

Dirksen was not listed as among those joining in the senatorial statement, nor were the other top Republican leaders in the Senate — Knowland of California, Bridges of New Hampshire and Saltstonall of Massachusetts.

However, Dirksen told a reporter he had not been asked to sign it. The other three were not reached for comment, but Bridges has criticized some of the plan's provisions.

Attached by Rep. Vinson

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, has called the President's plan a move toward setting up a "Prussian-type supreme high command."

Eisenhower, without calling any names, said in his speech to the editors that such criticism was nonsense. He also took sharp issue with contentions that his plan would make a czar of the defense secretary.

He scored too as far-fetched the arguments that congressional control over appropriations would be lost through the greater flexibility the plan would give the defense secretary in handling military funds.

The party workers heard Dan Duffy of Cleveland, Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman, speak on behalf of Albert Porter of Cleveland, one of the party's gubernatorial candidates in the May primaries.

John Taylor of Salem spoke for Clinton Jackson of Youngstown, political writer, who also seeks gubernatorial nomination.

Deputy Robert Beresford took Wooley to the penitentiary.

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP) — You're up there for three long seconds."

That's the terse way a Navy pilot Thursday described the climax of a missile-like climb into the fringe of space in which he set an unofficial world altitude record for conventional jet aircraft.

Actually, this was a brief technological invasion of space—a jet engine operating at an altitude at which it is not meant to operate," said Lt. Cmdr. George Watkins, who rode the swept-wing Grumman F11F-IF to 76,828 feet, above the Mojave Desert Wednesday.

He scored too as far-fetched the arguments that congressional control over appropriations would be lost through the greater flexibility the plan would give the defense secretary.

He scored too as far-fetched the arguments that congressional control over appropriations would be lost through the greater flexibility the plan would give the defense secretary.

The previous record, 70,308 feet, was set last summer by a British Canberra jet.

Watkins' climb of approximately 14.6 miles is far exceeded by the 24-mile height attained by the rocket-powered X2.

You have to know exactly the right angle to apply in the climb," said Watkins, 37, who flashed at 45,000 feet over the desert at better than 1,200 m.p.h. before he landed back on the stick.

That he is a policy of letting things ride." But Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said Eisenhower has proposed in this field.

Meanwhile, rival party leaders in the Senate argued over whether the Eisenhower administration was being vigorous enough in fighting the economic slump. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) bemoaned what he said is a policy of letting things ride." But Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said Eisenhower has proposed in this field.

Special guests invited to last night's meeting to hear the discussion and to offer suggestions included Patrolman Robert Kirchgesner, attending as representative of Mayor Harold Smith and Police Chief George Early.

He said a program of this type would receive the full cooperation of the city and of the police department, and that through the Fraternal Order of Police, it could be extended to a county-wide program.

Wilber Coy, president of Salem's Automobile Dealers Association, in commenting on the program stated an "honor driver" would insist on his car being in top shape at all times which would create safer traffic conditions for all motorists. "It would," Mr. Coy said, "sow the seeds of safety and honor among beginning drivers and make adults conscious of their responsibilities."

Castle Smith, president of the Salem Chamber of Commerce, called the Youth Honor Driver program excellent." He added, "High powered cars need intelligent handling, and this program puts the issue of safe driving before the youth in an understandable way."

Also next Thursday, the reserve requirement will be trimmed from 17 per cent to 16½ per cent in reserve city banks, located in most other large cities. Country reserve banks were not affected.

Addresses Gathering in Marietta

O'Neill Opens Drive, Cites Accomplishments

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Gov. William O'Neill told a gathering in his hometown he is confident the people of Ohio will find his record good.

The governor led a large delegation of state Republican officials who kicked off their drive for re-election. Thursday night's meeting was the first of five planned in various cities in the next few weeks.

O'Neill, seeking his second term, said his administration has given the people the kind of efficient, economical and progressive government they are entitled to have. However, he continued:

I have not been able . . . to accomplish everything I wanted to accomplish. I do not pretend now to have solved every governmental problem. But I have fulfilled or am fulfilling every major promise that I made."

O'Neill listed these as the major accomplishments of his administration:

1. "We have launched the greatest highway construction program in the history of this great state."

2. "My administration has underway a building program at the state's hospitals, penal and correctional institutions and state-supported universities that will establish a new all-time record."

3. "There have been no scandals in my administration, no apologies have been necessary because of corruption within nor corrupt influences from without. We have successfully used every means at our command to stamp out syndicated, commercialized gambling. Big-time gambling operations have been smashed in every attempt made so far in Ohio."

4. "Taxes have not been increased. The state government is living within its income despite a decline in revenues. We have economized and saved money by installing business methods in many departments. We have installed new, money-saving purchasing methods.

"These are the major accomplishments of the past 15 months. We are proud of them. The record speaks for itself. We are willing—and happy—to run for reelection on that record."

On the subject of education, O'Neill said he plans to establish a "new principle in education where every student will have the right to education beyond the high school if the student is willing to work and has the ability."

He also announced that the state will have 22 branch colleges when classes start next fall.

Nearly all Republican state officials were at the meeting as well as several Ohio Supreme Court judges and most of the governor's cabinet.

The rally, held in the gymnasium at Marietta College, was reported to be the largest of its kind in this southeastern Ohio town's history. Some 1,475 persons were present.

Our Grangers: Solid People

Ninety years ago this week the first grange chapter was established at Freedonia, N. Y. Since that time 7,200 other community granges have been chartered, many of them right here in the Columbian-Mahoning County district surrounding Salem.

Columbian County, a center of grange activity for many years, has 21 subordinate granges with a combined membership of 5,297. In addition, there are 17 juvenile granges with 693 members.

Mahoning County has 10 subordinate granges with 2,960 members and eight juvenile granges and 231 members.

All of our good people who belong to the grange stand as a sturdy, vigilant force for a better life in rural America and we are happy that we live in an area where the grange exhibits a constant desire to not only

Ohio Assembly Should Be Ready

The Seventh District Court of Appeals has upheld a Mahoning County Common Pleas Court ruling that supplemental unemployment benefits are legal in Ohio.

The next step is an appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court. If the Supreme Court upholds the original ruling, the next step would seem to be a special session of the Ohio General Assembly, to put a legislative footing under a judicial ruling.

All that the judges can do is rule on the issue before them—whether or not laid-off employees in Ohio can collect SUB without reducing the amount of state unemployment compensation for which they are eligible.

They cannot rule on the equally important issue of whether other laid-off employees who have no claim on SUB shall be permitted to retain a greater amount of their odd job earnings without reducing the amount of state unemployment compensation for which they are eligible.

Only the state legislature can do that job properly.

Those who have agitated, first, to have the Ohio BUC administrator clear up the whole thing by an administrative decision, then to have the courts clear it up, are seemingly unaware of the legislative problem that is involved.

Whenever the problem is mentioned, they leap to the conclusion it is mentioned only to prejudge the case of those who want SUB to become a practice in Ohio.

This is what the Ohio Legislative Service Commission, which studies statewide issues for the General Assembly, said about SUB in a staff report published in February 1957:

"To authorize payment of SUB concurrently with unemployment compensation benefits, specifically defining SUB as excluded from deductible remuneration, would give special status to a special kind of income arising from a type of contract currently popular among certain employers and labor groups.

"This authorization would require a statutory definition of the kind of payments to have this special status and of the kinds of contract terms under which they may be made. Due to the kind of drafting required for this legislation, the language might incidentally discriminate between some kinds of contracts already in existence and almost certainly would have unforeseen application help the farmers but to foster a closer understanding between the urban and rural dwellers.

The National Grange has become a far more formidable organization than the ritualistic fraternity its founders designed almost a century ago to weld farm families together and help them save a few dollars.

The Grange is given credit for gaining Cabinet status for the Department of Agriculture and it has championed the farm extension service, rural mail delivery, farm credit, agriculture experiment stations and dozens of other major benefits to American farming.

Service projects about us bear witness to the community spirit of Columbian and Mahoning County grangers and on this 90th anniversary occasion we only hope that we will be around 10 years hence to wish all of the grangers a well-deserved 100th birthday greeting.

To kinds of contracts to be adopted in the future.

"This approach would place the state in the position of enacting special legislation and of placing a state program in accord with actions unilaterally arrived at by private interests....

"Authorization of concurrent SUB payments by definition clearly would discriminate against the unemployed worker who has found odd jobs or part-time work."

SUB cannot be considered apart from the principle it involves in the administration of unemployment compensation in Ohio. Ultimately, it must be settled in the legislature, regardless of what is done in the courts

On This, We Agree

The disproportionate crime rate among youths under 18 in the United States—better than 40 per cent of all serious offenses—has been commented on obliquely in a report from the Soviet Union.

The chief of the civil law section of the Law Institute of the Academy of Sciences says youths under 18 in the Soviet Union committed only 5.6 per cent of its crimes in 1955—the year 42 per cent were committed by the same age group in the United States—and the proportion dropped to 1 per cent in 1956.

He said the reason is that Russian parents are legally responsible for the behavior of their children. Parents can be punished for the crimes and held accountable for the damage they cause. Moreover, in an authoritarian society, parents can be deprived of parental rights for neglect of their parental duties.

With allowances for differences in the way statistics are compiled in the United States and Russia and in the collectivist policy of state and individual responsibility, the Russian claim of almost complete freedom from juvenile delinquency is still impressive. It so happens that every authority in this country who has studied juvenile delinquency has had something to say about parental irresponsibility as a prime cause.

The average man knows but little about women's clothes but doesn't care much about them when he sees the price tags.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS ago this month Prohibition ended, with beer and wine legalized and hard stuff getting the okay in November. The era of peepholes, signals, membership cards and "Max sent me" doesn't seem that long ago. It's hard to realize a quarter century has passed since liquor invaded the home, largely in form of homemade gin. Countless homes had the five-gallon jug of alcohol and the bottle of juniper juice ready for instant mixing whenever guests showed up. Wood alcohol was greatly feared and everybody poured whatever alcohol they were using into a saucer and applied a match to see if it made a blue flame. (The trouble was nobody was certain whether blue flames indicated the alcohol was good or deadly.) Drinking was never the evil before Prohibition that it has been ever since. Prohibition drove "likker" into the speakeasy and the home kitchen; Repeal drove it into the living room, package store and ladies' cocktail bar. Back before Prohibition few kids saw any liquor around the house. Today few don't.

Don't chloroform your pocketbook because of a slight pain in your budget. America in a slump is doing better than any other nation in the world does in what it considers a boom. Stop, look and listen but don't make a career or hobby of it. The greater your confidence the shorter the recession.

Maybe we all spent too much too fast too

Tough Task Master

A Matter of Veracity

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Since this column appears in a great many cities where the name of veteran reporter Arthur Krock is well known but in which his current articles in The New York Times are not in general circulation, I feel that it will serve the cause of truth and national interest to present the following story.

In former President Truman's statements before the House

Banking and Currency Committee on Tuesday, April 14 of this year, he was asked about an interview with him which was published in The New York Times of Feb. 15, 1950. In Krock's report of that interview he quoted the then President as saying: "It is a good thing that job-seeking should go on at all times. It is a healthy ment... from three to five millions is supportable."

This was, incidentally, said by the head of the party which tried to jam through a "full employment" bill in its original form which, but for the labor of Sen. Taft, would have been passed without vital amendments.

Last Tuesday, in answer to the congressman's question about this 1950 statement, Mr. Truman said, and I quote from Krock's article on April 15: "The former President replied: 'This exclusive interview didn't happen, it came out of the air.' A few minutes later he said that 'no newspaperman had ever talked to him 'about unemployment' and that the passage was only a purported quote from me."

Krock then recites in detail how the interview was given, how it was checked at the White House and how the late Charles Ross, then secretary to the president, suggested no correction in the statement about unemployment.

An honest and responsible reporter's integrity in a matter of this kind is the basis of his standing in the profession, the mark of his personal honor. For anyone thus to impugn it is a very serious matter, even when it is a President who makes the denial.

In his inimitable manner of understatement Krock says:

"The most tolerant conclusion from this incident is that a memory, extraordinary in its retention of events in remote history, fails Mr. Truman when the event is part of his own and recent experience. The conclusion is tolerant indeed of a disclaimer that imputes fakery of an interview with a President of the United States, deception of his newspaper and the reading public by the writer of the interview, and a gross fraud committed on the Advisory Board on Pulitzer Prizes (which in 1951 certified the exclusive interview as the 1950 prize winner in national reporting.)"

To put the matter bluntly, such an attack by the former President merely confirms what any reasonable reader would conclude from reading the Truman Memoirs and other utterances since thenation was relieved of his services five years ago.

Menshikov Go Home

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Envoy Has Cruel Streak Behind Mask of Smiles

and Karl Mundt (R-SD), now senator.

Since Mr. Gordon is temporarily out of the country, this correspondent interviewed Rep. Bolton and Sen. Mundt. Mrs. Bolton said:

"Yes, I remember the experience and what we found. Unless a person was a Communist, he didn't get anything to eat. It was a bad situation and the people who needed our food most didn't get it. Mr. Menshikov was to blame for what happened and we said so plainly on our return to Washington."

SEN. MUNDT, confirming this:

"That is correct. As stated in the report, Menshikov was distributing these UNRRA supplies to the Communists and not to the other people—and claiming credit for the Soviets, rather than for this country. The Soviets were contributing very little, if anything, to this relief agency. By getting the leadership echelon party into the hands of the Russians, they very skillfully maneuvered their people at the top in these countries which even then, I suppose, they had in mind taking over. This was a very handy tool to win friends and influence people—what's that used it for?"

When Ambassador Menshikov came to Washington, he was received with open arms by various persons here. He was given time on television and was publicized widely as exuding the best of feelings toward the American people. Yet behind the mask of smiles is a cruel streak.

HERE IS A MAN who abused his trusteeship as the custodian and distributor of food to starving people. He was the agent of an international relief organization but his first allegiance was to Communism—he was willing to see human beings suffer unless they accepted Communist domination, even while he used relief supplies to reward those who were politically on his side. It is a sorrowful chapter. It is not important alone as a revelation of what one Communist did but it's an example of the tyranny and inhumanity which lie behind the whole Communist creed and the Communist government.

Upon the committee's return to this country, it lodged a strong protest with the president of the United States and was happy to learn that soon thereafter Mr. Menshikov was recalled and his place taken by Brig. Gen. C. M. Drury of Canada. Since the committee's return to the United States, it has kept in close and direct contact with UNRRA operations in Poland and has noted great improvement both in the operation and in the distribution of relief supplies."

Three of the four members of the above mentioned committee are still in Congress—Rep. Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.), chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee and Rep. Frances Bolton (R-Ohio) invited to their rostrums and banquet tables anyone who had such a record of wilful cruelty to human beings. If they do, such functions should be picketed by those who wish to register a protest against inhumanity.

On Summit Meeting

By JAMES MARLOW

Any summit meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev could at best have only very limited results, perhaps no more than a slight easing of tensions.

The best possible result would be an agreement on disarmament: the abolition of nuclear weapons. This would free the world of the fear of annihilation. But that appears to be out of the question for the foreseeable future.

Therefore, any agreement reached at the summit would be something less than the ideal. But does that make such a meeting undesirable? Secretary of State Dulles and former Secretary of State Acheson are cold to a summit meeting.

Acheson even opposes the thought of a president taking part in such a meeting. To support his position he cites President Wilson's disappointments after World War I and the flimsy results of Eisenhower's summit meeting in Geneva in 1955.

In the past the meetings of the heads of government have been surrounded with such pomp, ceremony and importance that the world was filled with great expectations and therefore great disillusionments when the ideals were not attained.

Because of that, perhaps, and because of the traditional stodgy positions of governments, such meetings were seldom held. But with the passing years the world has been narrowed down by the speed of transportation and communications.

Acheson and Dulles seem to be thinking in the past, with their misgivings about a summit conference. Eisenhower appears more contemporary than they do, and more conscious of the changing nature of the world.

He has repeatedly expressed a willingness to meet with the Soviets if he believes it will do some good.

Various reasons could be given why agreement on the abolition of nuclear weapons is out of the question in the foreseeable future. Several will suffice.

1. To make sure there would be no cheating, an elaborate check-

We know the techniques of war; now we must master the arts of peace. A thousand conferences are to be preferred to the dropping of one bomb.—Rep. Harold D. Cooly (D-N.C.) urging early summit conference.

Making a record isn't show business... These youngsters... are coming in to make a fast dollar. Well, let them make their record and then get out.—Sophie Tucker, "Last of the Red Hot Mamas," on young rock 'n' roll singers.

I wouldn't attach too much importance to these student riots (before U.S. Embassy in Indonesia). I remember when I was a student at the Sorbonne in Paris I used to go out and riot occasionally.—Secretary of State Dulles.

In And About Our Schools

Checks on the population of adult spittlebugs last fall indicate a heavier than usual infestation of this insect in this area this spring, according to D. Lyle Goleman, extension entomologist at Ohio State University.

Farmers who wish to protect their meadows should be prepared to apply the recommended insecticide early when the spittle masses are small and first observed.

The new growth is less than six inches tall at that time. Usually the application will go on the last of April or the first of May. Spraying of meadows at the proper time has been demonstrated to increase yields from 25 to 50 per cent, Goleman says.

Heptachlor and Methoxychlor are the recommended insecticides. Heptachlor is used at the rate of one and one-half pints of 25 per cent emulsion per acre. Animals should not be pastured in treated fields for at least 10 days after treatment.

Methoxychlor is used at the rate of two quarts of 25 per cent emulsion per acre. In this case, animals should not be pastured for seven days after treatment. If aphids become a problem, they can be controlled by spraying with Malathion at the rate of one and one-half pints of 57 per cent emulsion per acre. Cattle should not be grazed for seven days after spraying.

Many farmers of Columbiana County consistently spray their meadows for control of this insect, according to County Agent Floyd Lower. The intensity of the infestation has been gradually increasing from year to year, Lower says. The insect is easily controlled if insecticide are applied at the proper time.

Strawberry growers also must spray to control this insect on their crops. The insecticides are preferably applied prior to formation of berries.

One pint of 20 per cent Lindane, one quart of BHC carrying 10 to 11 per cent Gamma Isomer, or two quarts of 25 per cent Methoxychlor emulsion concentrate per 100 gallons of water should be applied per acre when the plants start blooming. Methoxychlor is preferred if the berries are set, but should not be applied within 14 days of harvest.

The insecticide on strawberries can be combined with Captan for control of fruit rot, Goleman reported.

Population Increase Rate Slackens in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The month-to-month increase in the nation's population was less in February than in any month in the past five years.

Census Bureau statisticians said yesterday the February slump was caused by an increase in deaths because of respiratory ailments including the second wave of Asian flu.

Here's what the bureau figures happened to the civilian population in February:

For the first time since February 1953, the month-to-month gain did not top 200,000; the civilian population increased by 195,000 to a total of 170,562,000.

With the armed forces added, the estimated population on March 1 was 173,210,000, representing a February gain of 199,000. Here again the increase was at a five-year low.

Here and There In Our Town

By DONNA AGAN

Mrs. David (Mary Bonsall) McConnell of Coraopolis, Pa., writes to say that Salem will be represented this summer at the Brussels Fair in Belgium. Charles Burchfield will have one of his paintings displayed, and Penelope Walcott was chosen to be a guard at the U.S. Pavilion. She is the granddaughter of Rebecca Hutton Perry (Mrs. Arthur Perry of Boston); Mrs. Perry is formerly of Salem. Penelope ("Wendy") graduated from Smith College in 1957, and was an exchange student to Germany during her junior year.

Mrs. Paul Mercer and her son, Ricky, 6, of Winona, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford L. Zimmerman of E. Third St., had a lovely time in Florida during the past month. They went especially to visit Ricky's great-grandfather, C. W. Zimmerman of St. Petersburg, Fla., who had never seen his great-grandson. The elder Zimmerman celebrated his 84th birthday while they were there.

If enough people would be interested, Mrs. Louis Weirick of the Garden Center will plan a trip for sometime in May to Mansfield to see the Kingwood Center . . . it is a beautiful estate which was given to the garden clubs of Mansfield, and noted for its lovely landscaping and gardens.

This week the DAR is holding its 67th Continental Congress in Washington, D.C. Some 80,000 books and manuscripts will be searched looking for ancestors of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Last year, Mrs. Kenneth Gormley of Columbiana and Mrs. Joseph Boone of Salem attended the Congress as representatives for the Phoebe Fraunces Chapter.

Some of you may have figured on doing this the next time insomnia plagued you — count which names have the longest listings in the Salem telephone directory. Gordon Arndt has already performed this service for you . . . he tabulates 70 Smiths, 43 Millers, 26 Zimmersmans, and 23 Davises. Now you might try counting the names which appear only once, such as Alix, Almon, Amon, Aubill, etc.

The Friday night record hops at the Memorial Building (first one last Friday) are open to teen-agers and adults. Hank Terrell of Youngstown, a former Kansas City disc jockey, is the emcee.

Hog Claimed, Infirmary Residents Out Dinner

Albert Schmidt of New Waterford has gotten his missing hog back, albeit in different form than when it was lost. And County Home residents are out a roast pork dinner.

The animal broke through its crate and fell out of the truck on Rt. 14, east of Salem, as Schmidt was taking the hog to the Damascus Community Sale Tuesday.

County Humane Officer Al Fulls was notified, and he shot the injured animal and took it to a local market to be dressed. He reported the matter to the Salem News, stating he intended to turn the carcass over to the County Home if it was not claimed.

However, an unidentified Washingtonville man, whom Schmidt had visited and informed of his loss, saw the item in the News and contacted Fulls who called Schmidt to come get his hog.

of directors are all the officers and Dr. Lee A. Cobbs, Thomas J. Doland, Mrs. Walter N. Miller, Leo Lawrence, Mrs. Arlene Scotten, Mrs. Arthur Apotholt, Richard Speidel, Paul H. Blair, Mrs. Jessie Calhoun, Fred A. Huston and Mrs. McCutcheon.

It was reported that 12,828 chest X-rays were taken by the Christian Health unit or X-raying of admissions to general hospitals.

Reporting on Christmas seal mobile unit X-rays, Miss Lillian R. Schroeder, executive secretary of the league, said 9,065 were taken among the general public, 2,748 in industries; and 1,015 in schools.

Three hundred and fifty-eight X-rays were classified as not normal.

In 182 of these, a condition requiring further study by means of a large film was indicated. A second large film was provided for this group without cost.

Miss Schroeder said conditions other than suspected tuberculosis found on survey films included lung cancer and some heart abnormalities.

George L. Lafferty of Lisbon, who has been associated with the tuberculosis movement for over 35 years, paid tribute to the hundreds of volunteer board members who direct the program and budget of the local Christmas seal agency.

In addition to local organization work, Lafferty has served the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Association as a member of the executive committee, and a member-at-large on the board of directors.

He was also president of the state association 1950-1951.

A report on the Christmas seal sale showed that Columbiana County residents contributed $32,484.28 during the campaign, or about $1,200 short of last year's total. Of this amount, 22 per cent is earmarked for state and national TB work, with the rest being used in Columbiana County.

Columbiana, Salem, Hanoverton and East Rochester showed an increase over last year's total, but all the other districts were short.

The East Liverpool area gave $9,087.21; Salem, $7,321.86; Lisbon, $2,323.25; East Palestine, $3,065.44; and Columbiana, $3,279.59.

Adequate funds are assured for most of the league's work in public X-raying and health education for the coming year, according to Donald Elliott. A total of 50,000 pieces of printed information about tuberculosis was distributed during the past year. This material ranged from medical publications to cards telling people where to get a survey chest X-ray.

The financial report for 1957-1958 shows a balance of $3,731.20. Christmas seal sale receipts were $33.

736.74, less $7,422.08 for state and national TB work, leaves a total of $26,314.66. The refund from the state association of $2,911.98 $504.56 in interest hiked total gross receipts to $29,731.20.

Disbursements included: health education, $8,100.26; case findings, $7,444.16; statistics and fact finding, $585; public information, $636.70; administration, $3,010; rehabilitation, $200; seal mobile unit. All the X-rays taken since the first survey in 1945 total well over 100,000.

This does not include survey work of the Ohio Department of Health unit or X-raying of admissions to general hospitals.

Reporting on Christmas seal mobile unit X-rays, Miss Lillian R. Schroeder, executive secretary of the league, said 9,065 were taken among the general public, 2,748 in industries; and 1,015 in schools.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

The hearts of Flint (Mich.) are has forestalled from foreclosure, seizure or repossession.

Victor Riesel
coming due. In that city they believe that joblessness is temporary and that a workingman's credit should not melt with the winter snows. Thus the mayor, George Algoe, has set up the Unemployment Arbitration Committee, which is part of the bigger Unemployment Study Committee. The human dignity this Flint Formula has saved cannot be measured alone by the number of pieces of furniture, appliances, cars and mortgages it has described the committee's operations to me, here's how they function:

Flint's Unemployment Study Committee and its subcommittee, the Unemployment Arbitration Committee, is a joint voluntary effort of the administration, credit institutions, unions and merchants to devise methods of forestalling seizures, foreclosures and repossession of property purchased on credit terms by persons who have lost work in the current recession.

The function of the parent committee is to establish policies, general procedures and accept applications for assistance from debtors. The Arbitration Committee reviews the requests for aid and acts as a mediator between the debtor and creditor in an effort to work out mutually agreeable and manageable terms for retirement of the obligations."

When auto layoffs made one out of every 11 Flint workers jobless, Buick Local 599 of the United Auto Workers Union petitioned the city for help. The first study committee consisted of nine civic leaders, who were "representatives of lending institutions, merchants, unions, state agencies and area industries." To this group the mayor later added six presidents of local unions.

THEY MET and worked out details for processing workingmen's appeals for credit and turning them over to the second group, the Arbitration Committee. Then a public meeting was called. To this were invited 250 area businessmen and merchants.

The parent committee held this session "so the program could be publicly understood and generally accepted."

"This committee was not designed as a refuge for habitual debtors or perennial poor credit risks but for normally good credit rated individuals suffering temporary adversity," the city manager told me.

"This is not a moratorium... but rather a revising of payment schedules so that debtors can continue to at least partially meet obligations without fear of court action or credit agency dunning."

UNDER THE Flint Formula, a jobless worker goes either to his union headquarters or city hall for a special application blank. On this form the worker lists all his creditors, how much he owes each, how much he must pay weekly or monthly and how many payments he is behind.

Now what is most important is a listing of the amount he can pay and the reaction of his creditors to his proposal for cutting or delaying payments.

After he gets the blank, the debtor must go to each of his creditors. Then if they can't agree on new tyle payments, the jobless worker goes back to the Arbitration Committee for help.

But in a great many cases this last step hasn't been necessary.

"One of the chief benefits of the program actually was only partially anticipated," the city manager said the other day. "Experience to date has shown that many applicants called on their creditors after securing application blanks and they resolved their problems

Researchers Study '57 Flu Epidemic

Some of the facts connected with the worldwide outbreak of Asian influenza are now known. Others will take time to study and evaluate.

The so-called Asian flu is caused by a particular strain of the influenza A virus. This virus can be considered responsible for the second great pandemic, or epidemic, of the century, the first having occurred in 1918-19.

The exact point of origin of this worldwide epidemic is not known, but apparently the first outbreaks occurred in China in February and March of 1957.

By April of last year epidemic influenza had appeared in Hong Kong and had spread to other areas bordering the western Pacific Ocean. By May the virus, carried principally along shipping routes, had spread through Malaya, the Philippines, Guam, Okinawa, India and Indonesia.

DURING JUNE, 1957, more than 20 countries in various parts of the world became affected with Asian influenza for the first time.

It reached the Middle East in epidemic proportions in July. By the end of August the epidemics had declined in most countries of Eastern and Western Asia, but true epidemics began being reported from Europe and North America.

Widespread occurrence of Asian influenza began in the United States in September. The epidemics in most communities affected persons of high school age first, then elementary school pupils and lastly, the grownups.

Although it affected people 65 years and older last of all, preliminary reports showed the highest proportion of deaths among these older members of our society.

By mid-October influenza in the United States appeared to have reached its peak and is believed to have affected at least 20 million persons throughout the country.

Whether it makes the disease milder in those who have been vaccinated than in those who have not will doubtless be reported on at a later date.

Alliance Cindermen Snap Salem Win Streak 76-42

Aviators Take 10 of 14 Firsts

Locals Vie Saturday In Mansfield Relays

A string of 15 straight wins in dual and triangular meets by the Salem High School cindermen was ended Thursday afternoon at Reilly Stadium when they were defeated by a strong Alliance team 76-42 in the third of six dual track meets planned this season at home.

Alliance took 10 firsts out of the 14 events. The Aviators were paced by Les Travers who copped a pair of firsts and two seconds.

The Quakers managed to come home first in the 880-yard relay, the quarter-mile run, broad jump and pole vault.

In the half-mile relay, Bill Holzwarth, Salem's anchor man, started some seven or eight yards behind the Aviator's fourth runner but he still managed to put in a final kick to win by a stride.

The 440 ended in the same manner as Benny Jones put on the steam in the last 40 yards to lead off of Alliance's Bob Brown to win in his best time yet, 54.1.

Jim Horn notched his best height of the year in his specialty, the pole vault, by going 11 feet, six inches. Harry Izembur's first leap in the broad jump was enough to give him the win. He went 18 feet, nine and three-quarter inches.

Henry Maxini did not run in the 100-yard dash for Salem. He was nursing an arm injury received when he tripped over a hurdle in Wednesday's practice sessions. He will be sidelined for five to seven days.

The Quakers will journey to Mansfield Saturday to compete in the Mansfield Relays, along with 131 other teams. Some 1,200 athletes from Pennsylvania and Michigan are expected to compete.

Yesterday's results are as follows:

120-yard high hurdles: Travers (A), Holzwarth (S) Zing (A) 15.4.

100 yard dash: Brown (A) Woolf (A), Ehrhart (S) 10.5.

Mile run: Gilgora (A) Solomon (S), Reitha (A) 4:48.6.

880 yard relay: Howard, Burchfield, McNeal, Holzwarth (S) 1:36.0.

440 yard dash: Jones (S) Brown (A) Johnson (A) 54.1.

180 yard low hurdles: Travers (A), Zing (A), Howard (S) 21.5.

220 yard dash: Venable (A) McNeal (S) Wilson (A) 24.3.

880-yard run: Gilgora (A) Oysterman (A), Krichbaum (S) 2:13.4.

Shot put: Angle (A), Ehrhart (S), Slaby (S) 44'4".

Discus: Angle (A), Zeppernick (S), Welch (S) 122'5".

High jump: Riddle (A), Travers (A), Horn (S) 5'9".

Broad jump: Izembur (S), Erniet (A), Barnard (A) 18' 9¾".

Pole vault: Horn (S), Travers (A), tie for third between Dunn (S) and Lehwald (S) 11'6".

Hitting—Ed Mathews, Braves, drove in five runs with his second two-homer game in 6-1 victory over the Pirates.

Pitching—Jack Harshman, Orioles, blanked Senators on one hit for 5 2-3 innings in relief of rookie Milt Pappas for a combined three-hit, 4-0 victory.

NICE GOING, BUDDY — Pitcher Lou Burdette, left, and slugger Eddie Mathews (41), who collaborated in the Milwaukee Braves 6-1 victory over Pittsburgh at County Stadium in Milwaukee, demonstrate mutual admiration in the clubhouse. Lou hurled a 7-hitter and Eddie drove in five runs with a pair of homes, his third and fourth of the young National League season.

Redlegs' Protest of Opening Defeat Is Dismissed by Giles

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs finally will get around to playing their second game of the season today but they still don't think their opener last Tuesday against Philadelphia should be charged as a defeat.

National League President Warren Giles Thursday dismissed the Cincinnati protest of the opening 5-4 defeat by the Phils. But Manager Gabe Paul promptly said the Redlegs would ask for a reconsideration of the case and a hearing, if possible.

Junior League Registration, Tryouts Set

The first call for boys who desire to play baseball this summer in the Salem Junior Baseball League will be held Saturday afternoon beginning at 1 at Centennial Park, John H. Herman Jr., league president, announced today.

The Redlegs claim another rule calls for the ball to be declared dead when there is interference.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts planned to start ex-Pirate Bob Purkey against Pittsburgh in the Bucs' home opener today. Purkey was due to be opposed by Ronnie Kline who seldom has been much of a puzzle to the Redlegs in recent years.

Although the Pirates have had a lot of lean years they have been unusually successful in their home openers and particularly against Cincinnati. Dating back to 1927 they have won 11 of 13 from Cincinnati in opening day games here and they have won 23 of 31 overall in their home field openers.

The Redlegs also will be here for a single games Saturday and Sunday.

Pabsts in Second Place in ABC Meet

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Pabst moved into second place in the open team division of the American Bowling Congress Thursday with a hefty 3-game series of 3154.

The Pabsts clicked off games of 106, 996, and 1092 to give the St. Louis Stallions their most serious threat since they took command of the tournament on April 10 with a 3210 score.

Time for the tryouts are Class D, 1 p.m.; Class E, 1:30; Class F, 2; Class G, 2:30 and Class H, 3.

Herman reports that a clinic for pitchers and catchers will be held sometime next week.

Cleveland Edges Kansas City 3-2

Jim Grant Turns in 8-Hit Hurling Job

CLEVELAND (AP) — Grant cap-an eight-hitter against the Kansas City Athletics for the Tribe's first victory of the young American League baseball season. The fans loved him.

Despite his fine showing Grant appeared the loser with two out in the ninth inning. With two men aboard and the Tribe trailing, 2-1, Manager Bobby Bragan sent veteran Mickey Vernon, who will be 40 Tuesday, to bat for the young pitcher.

Vernon drilled a double to right center and Cleveland broke its two-game losing spell with a 3-2 triumph.

Grant, who was signed to a contract only a little more than two weeks ago, said:

"Things certainly have happened fast for me, so quickly it's hard to believe sometimes. I've been hoping and praying for this for a long time."

"At the start I was shaky but about the seventh inning I began to feel natural out there. Then I was afraid it was too late."

"But Mickey Vernon's hit made everything perfect."

Bob Cerv, Kansas City's slugger left fielder, continued his amazing hitting spree against Grant. He singled home the first run in the opening frame, then drove an outside slider in the sixth inning into the left field seats for a home run. That put the A's in front, 2-1. Cerv had seven hits in the three-game series and drove in nine runs.

Cleveland had tallied in its half of the first inning off Duke Maas, the former Detroit righthander who also pitched well. A single by Chico Carrasquel and a double by Rocky Colavito, who played for the first time at first base, accounted for the first run.

From Top to Bottom

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — In Most Fields a man gets ahead by going from the bottom to the top.

George Abou ben Hamid—may his tribe increase—did it the other way. Now one of America's leading showmen, he won success by working his way from the top to the bottom.

"I started as an acrobat at the age of 7 in Lebanon," explained Hamid. "The novice always acts as top man on the human pyramid. His goal is to work down until he is the ground man—and holds the others up."

Hamid now runs the world's largest booking agency for thrill acts. He owns the Steel Pier at Atlantic City and a chain of movie houses. He also is currently staging the Beatty-Hamid-Morton Circus, billed as the largest under canvas.

But at 62, George, one of the top tumblers of his time, can still turn a cartwheel in his office—and thinks it isn't a bad way for a busy executive to pep up his circulation.

"I could probably still do a somersault—maybe for Marilyn Monroe," he remarked genially.

Hamid has known most of the entertainment figures of two generations, but his lifelong favorites are Col. William (Buffalo Bill) Cody and Annie Oakley, star marksmen with the colonel's famous Wild West show.

"I came to this country with the show 50 years ago," he recalled. "Annie Oakley bought me my first primer and taught me to read. She gave me the only schooling I ever had."

"Col. Cody made a pet of me. I remember making lemonade for him during the summertime. I started with him for 25 cents a week."

"Buffalo Bill was my hero. No man since has been worshipped in quite the way he was. They even closed the schools when he came to town."

It was after the Buffalo Bill show folded in 1913 that Hamid started in the booking field finding jobs for the stranded acts. Today he runs a multimillion-dollar operation and culls the world for acts.

Although he has booked the highest-priced talent in the show world, his own heart still is with lower-paid circus performers who may risk death for a low wage.

"It burns me up to pay a singer $25,000 a week," he said, "when a tightrope walker who spent years learning his skill and puts his life in his feet every time he goes up can get only $250 to $400. It's an injustice. But the public determines the pay."

What distinguishes circus performers from the ordinary people who go to see them?

"They have a pride in family tradition," said Hamid. "One circus family tries to outdo the other, within a family the son tries to outdo his father."

"Life isn't so much of a challenge to most people. But life is a challenge every day to circus performers. That is why they seldom ever quit willingly."
